

Figure 3. Eyeworm prevalence in bobwhites across several counties in west Texas during 2019-20 hunting season. Highest infections (shown in red) typically occur in a north-south corridor along the 100th meridian. Scaled quail are included in Andrews, Brewster, Crane, and Ward counties